

ESCI 201 : Weather & Climate

Meteorological and climatological principles presented as background to understanding the global geography of climates. Special emphasis on understanding the relationships between climate and vegetation, and climate and human activities.

Semester Hours 3.0