

GNST 123 : Mathematics Study Skills

This class will focus on common topics that students at all levels of mathematics struggle with. The course will increase student's facility with basic algebraic manipulation and mathematical visualization necessary for success in college mathematics courses. Students will gain mathematics specific study skills, learn techniques to combat mathematics anxiety, and become familiar with self-help resources available. This course may not be repeated for credit.

Semester Hours 2.0

Prerequisites

Departmental permission.

Corequisites

MATH 121 or MATH 124