

MCOM 262 : Science Communication

Application of research and writing skills designed to enable science and communications students to consume sophisticated scientific literature and data and communicate effectively with general audiences about science topics.

Semester Hours 3.0

Prerequisites

ENGL 101