

POLS 450 : Seminar: Problems in Politics

Selected political issues associated with the institutions, culture, and politics of the United States; international or comparative politics; or political theory, thought, or philosophy. All students will complete a major research essay on a topic of their choice. May be re-taken for credit with different topics. Repeated courses will count as a 300 level POLS elective.

Semester Hours 3.0

Prerequisites

POLS 103, POLS 105, POLS 215, POLS 240, and senior status or departmental permission.