

PSYC 340 : Cross-Cultural Psychology

Theory and research of cultural influences on human behavior and psychological processes. Combination of a classroom instructional component with a study abroad experience to identify and compare psychological aspects of different cultures. Students will be responsible for travel expenses to locations abroad.

Semester Hours 3.0

Prerequisites

Instructor permission.