

ENGL 252 : Major British Writers III

Introduction to literature from 1945 to the present and its diverse cultural, social, and political contexts. Study of English-language authors from the British Isles, Africa, India, and the Caribbean, with attention to English as a language of world literature. English majors should complete this course before the end of their sophomore year.

Semester Hours 3.0

Prerequisites

ENGL 101.