

ACS 330 : Software Engineering

Topics are presented that focus on the design and development techniques for large, high-quality software systems. They include project management issues, analysis and design methods, and approaches to testing.

Semester Hours 3.0