

EGSC 361: Electronics Instrumentation

Study of circuits used in scientific instrumentation; emphasis on electrical measurements, analog circuits and digital systems; design of control and measurement systems. Prerequisites: EGSC 120, PHYS 202, and MATH 151, or departmental permission. Three lecture hours and three laboratory hours. Four semester hours.

Credits: 4

Program: Engineering