

MATH 370: Discrete Structures

Theoretical foundations of computer science, including sets, functions, Boolean algebra, first order predicate calculus, trees, graphs, discrete probability. This course satisfies the proficiency requirement for Oral Communication in the disciplines.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

201 and knowledge of a high-level programming language or departmental permission.

Program: Mathematics