

NURS 302: Pharmacology I

The introduction to pharmacologic and pharmokinetic knowledge. The student will understand the purpose in selection of the appropriate medication, the route, dose, and dosing schedules. Skills will be obtained in administration of medications - oral, intramuscular, intravenous, and intradermal. Students will demonstrate competency in safe administration of medications across the lifespan.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

BIOL 120, 121; NURS 202, 203, 204, 205.

Co-Requisites:

NURS 304, 305.

Program: Nursing