

Minor in Appalachian Studies

Talmage A. Stanley, Program Advisor

The Appalachian Studies minor is designed to provide students with an understanding of the history, natural resources, culture, politics, economy, and literary and artistic expressions of the region in which they were raised, will work and/or are presently located and to provide a coherent learning experience through multi-disciplinary studies of a single area.

Program: Appalachian Studies

Type: Minor

English 364 when the topic is Appalachian Literature

Item #	Title	Semester Hours
HIST 318	Appalachia	3
	ART 241 or ENVS 225	3
	An internship or independent study approved by the Appalachian Studies Program Advisor
	GEOG 311 or GEOG 331 or HIST 316	3
	Total credits:	9